Department Reorganization:

Director Carlisi shared with the commissioners the reorganization for the Department that was presented to council by the budget committee. This proposal would move the park and community center maintenance to the Public Works Department, not renew the current director's contract July 1, 2012 and create a new position as Recreation Director at a salary savings of $16,000. They would also cut the hours of the administration assistant from 40 to 28 per week.

Director Carlisi then shared the department's proposal to reorganize the department, save the same amount of money and not cut anyone's salary or hours. In this proposal, Park maintenance would move to the public works department, but the community center maintenance would remain under the Director of Parks and Recreation. Savings would be made in other budget areas and salaries would be reallocated to make up the remainder of the savings for the next budget year.

Commissioner Morehouse made a motion to recommend the Department's Reorganization in lieu of the Budget Committees plan, not to change the name of the department and represent the commission at the next council meeting on August 16, 2011.
